- For his life before us

We Dedicate
the 1943

WICK BROOMALL, JR., B.A., M.A., Th.B., Th.M., who was born in Birmingham, Alabama, January 31, 1902. Early boyhood days were spent in rugged farm life. Following his graduation from high school he matriculated at Maryville College where he received the degree of B.A. in 1925. He then spent four years at Princeton Theological Seminary, where he was the recipient of a fellowship for which he was awarded the degrees of M.A. and Th.M. During these years at Princeton Mr. Broomall had the privilege of studying under such competent men as Dr. J. Gresham Machen and Dr. Robert Dick Wilson. As a result of his studies, Latin, Greek, German, Hebrew, Aramaic, and Syriac are at his command. Prior to his coming to Columbia Bible College, Mr. Broomall supplied as pastor at the Handy Memorial Baptist Church, and has been a member of the faculties of the Birmingham School of the Bible, Evangelical Theological College at Dallas, and the Wheaton College summer school. On June 2, 1935, he was married to Mary Parker of Birmingham, Alabama, and in 1940 a son, John Owen, was born to them. Mr. Broomall is the author of The Holy Spirit, and several pamphlets on studies in prophecy. He has been professor of Greek, Hebrew, and Apologetics at Columbia Bible College since 1937. Mr. Broomall has taken a warm place in the hearts of the students of Columbia Bible College, and we owe more to him than either he or we realize. As but a small token of our gratitude, we dedicate the 1943 FINIAL to the Rev. Wick Broomall.

"The assembly period on Thursday will be taken charge of by the Student Association." So reads a bulletin on the spot announcement board, and the students meet to discuss problems of CBC life as they see it. The Association is headed by officers elected from the student body, and has the purpose of being a link between Board and Faculty and the students, as well as "to promote fellowship and spiritual life of the students and to stimulate and direct the various student activities."

The program of the Association for 1942-43 has given us food for reminiscence—the treasure hunt through Earlewood . . . the military maneuvers social . . . the doctor's robe . . . the cold Monday morning flag raisings . . . the championship basketball tournament . . . the picture of Dr. McQuilkin, age four . . . the Kimbers' diary and the Fleece's clock . . . British Commando raids made real by the war films . . . the Moonlight Sonata . . . and the many times we have united our hearts in the desire "To Know Him and to Make Him Known."

Every year it is the privilege of the junior class to edit the college annual. We, the staff of THE FINIAL of 1943, are deeply grateful for the opportunity afforded us this year in the preparation of this book. We are especially indebted to THE FINIAL staffs which have preceded us, for it is their work which has laid the foundation for ours. We are grateful for the suggestions given us by our advisers, Mr. Kimber and Miss Warren, and to The R. L. Bryan Company and The Carolina Engraving Company we express our heartfelt thanks for their splendid cooperation. Contrary to previous years, we have not adhered strictly to a theme but rather we have attempted to present a cross-section of school life at Columbia Bible College. We shall feel fully rewarded for our labors if THE FINIAL of 1943 affords you some enjoyment.

"CeBeCean deadline is March 9; be sure to have your articles in on time!" "Do you have that copy ready?" "Who wants to help make up the dummy?" So the work progresses until at last the paper is ready to be printed. The staff as a whole has worked to make this issue better than any preceding one.

Not only to the present members of the student body but also to other schools and individuals, the CeBeCean carries the account of campus activities and extra-curricular organizations. As the paper goes to over eight hundred subscribers, it represents another student effort "to know Him and to make Him known," and to picture life on the campus as it really is.

"Look on the fields . . ."

Saturday night at 6:35 a large percentage of the student body meets in the auditorium for the weekly meeting of the Foreign Missions Fellowship. Missionary speakers and the prayer groups of the local chapter present the needs of the harvest fields of the world. Since 1923, when the Bible college was established, more than 115 alumni have gone forth to labor in these fields—having heard the needs their answer has been: "Here am I, send me." Following the general assembly the students adjourn to the various prayer groups where the specific needs of missionaries and natives are brought before the Lord of the harvest.

Missions Fellowship

The Foreign Missions Fellowship was formed to unite student volunteers, who are anticipating missionary service, and who are interested in presenting the challenge of missions to their own generation on the many campuses throughout the United States. More than 120 chapters have been formed in our country. The three types of membership include those who are definitely purposing to go to the foreign field; those who are seeking the Lord's will and praying about the place they should take in the evangelization of the world whether at home or abroad; and those who will give missions a foremost place in their prayer, giving, and ministry here at home.

It is a happy privilege to be united in this work of "finishing the task—hastening His coming." "Faithful is He who has called us, who also will do it."

The men's Philologist Literary Society contributes definitely to our preparation for life in that it brings us into contact with the literary, social, and political trends of our day. It brings before us in an up-to-the-minute review and practical summary, the latest projects and activities of this age of rapid progress and constructive activity.

The expression of thought in public assembly is an important feature which has been of singular usefulness in developing leadership and initiative. There is an opportunity to become acquainted with the rules and practice of parliamentary procedure.

Sir Francis Bacon has summarized our activities and benefits received therefrom in these well-known words: "Reading maketh a full man, conference a ready man, and writing an exact man. Histories make men wise; poets, witty; mathematics, subtle; natural philosophy, deep; moral, grave; logic and rhetoric, ready to contend."

The Philologist Literary Society prepares us to face life and carry out our motto: "To know Him, and to make Him known."

"To understand what is lovely
To think on the good and the true;
To know what is fine of the oldest,
To learn what is best of the new.
We are fellow-Philobiblonians
In purpose united as one.
Oh, trustworthy still shall they find us
And true to the task we've begun!"

The words of the theme song express adequately the aims of the Philobiblonian Literary Society. In order that members may receive full benefits from the advantages of such an organization, two meetings, of diverse character, are held each month. One meeting gives experience in parliamentary drill as various matters of business are discussed and disposed of. The other is given over to the enjoyment of literary programs, and every member is given opportunity to participate in such a program. As we study the lives and works of the literati, new appreciation of the various forms of literature is gained, besides a keener enjoyment of the finer things of life.

Those who know the One who is the source of all truth and beauty have a special responsibility to the world of mankind. It therefore behooves us to do all in our power that will lend to development along cultural lines, in order that we may take our place with the informed people of the world and by first winning their respect, win them to our Lord. To this end the practical training given in the Philobiblonian Literary Society contributes much to our knowledge and experience, that we may be the better prepared for our life work.

Almand and Bucher directing a Miracle Book Club

Here in the city of Columbia is a tiny world bustling with activity. Seven days are too few for the innumerable opportunities afforded to touch the lives of those who live in and around the city. The most vital part of our life, the privilege of giving out God's Word, has thrilled the heart of many a student.

Boys and girls, men and women find the Lord through Sunday Schools, Bible classes, and clubs taught by members of C. B. C.

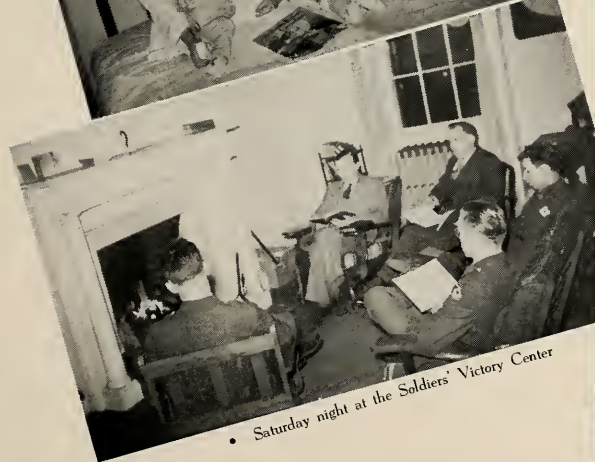

Child evangelism with its far-reaching effects is carried on in all sections of the city.

Of great importance is the work accomplished through house to house visitation. Finding people in their normal environment has led to deep, soul-searching conversation about the Lord. Equally effective is a ministry amongst the sick in hospital visitation.

A fairly recent phase of this department's service is the personal work done with soldiers. Street meetings provide an excellent means of giving out the Gospel to hundreds of restless young men, thronging the city streets on Saturday nights. Our Victory Center on the men's campus also has an ample share in filling the need of the spiritually hungry soldiers.

Faculty, staff, and students alike are constrained by the love of their Master to labor for the One who Himself went out amongst the multitude proclaiming His message of love and peace.

The graduates are people first and students second. They came from the chemistry laboratory, from the high school classroom, from the home mission field, and from other college classrooms to find at Columbia Bible College just what they wanted—the full knowledge of Christ through the Word with a fair presentation of the different views held within the church and outside it. They have found time to prove their skill in basketball, and to enjoy the fruits of their “horse” sense.

There is just a bit of "sadness of farewell" as you put out from C. B. C. for forts unknown. But there are many reasons for gladness.

There is the assurance of the 1943 year verse: "The Lord, He it is that doth go before thee; He will be with thee, He will not fail thee, neither forsake thee: fear not, neither be dismayed."

You recall the story of the famous Bishop Vincent, who said to his little son: "Now remember whose son you are, and be a good boy today." His boy answered: "Remember whose daddy you are, and be a good man today." So that is good for the Class of '43 and for C. B. C. But together we shall "Remember Jesus Christ."

Endowed with an abundance of enthusiasm and energy, the junior class is a lively group. Its specialties are staying up all night, breakfast hikes, picnics, catching seniors, Hermeneutics, and Greek. Wit and humor run riot on all such occasions.

This class has been knit together by bonds of three-years' thickness. Indeed, "come rain, come sun, the juniors stand as one."

First row: WATSON, FARVER, VELIKO, GEROW, WATTS, McMAHAN, HELLER, TUTTY, NETHERCOTT
 Second row: INGLE, FRAZIER, PIERCE, ROSS, HUYLER, VANDENBOSCH, HERHOLTZ, MINGRONI, BRACKBILL
 Third row: SOWERS, KRAYBILL, ALMAND, WATSON, WATSON, KANTZER, VANPUFFELLEN, WALTERS, MADEIRA, MAYD

Eagerly, yet sadly, they wait to take the last step on the C. B. C. road, when the "happy-go-lucky" junior becomes a sober, dignified senior.

Theirs is the "forward look" of expectancy. The future looks promising. The juniors shall go forward to make new conquests in the fields of knowledge and experience.

No longer does the humiliating name of "freshman" haunt this up and coming young group of erudites. Those days of inferiority are gone forever, as now we have exchanged that title for the more respected one of sophomore.

The sophomore class has always been better at making history than studying it, and has done so in all sorts of athletic, social, and scholastic activities. Two years we've been here now and two more completely enjoyable years could not intellectual stimulation along with confabs with professors and students has bene-

 Although the size of our class has dwindled considerably from what it was a year ago, the spirit has increased among the remaining. Half of our college days have rapidly passed by but we still have an equal number of years in which to make this one of the most outstanding classes in our college's history.

Marching, marching, marching! Along with everyone else we have come through prayer days we will never forget, a Student Conference that went so deep the impression can never be eradicated, a Spring Conference that we can

A SCHOOL FOR BOYS, GRADES 8 TO 12

Here in the mountains of western North Carolina, boys are taught regular subjects preparing them for college and for life. Athletics, band, musical opportunities, mountain hiking, Bible study, and all that goes with study in a progressive boys' school, carried on under the direction of Christian instructors.

JONATHAN G. WILLIAMS, Principal, B.A., University of California; M.A. in Biblical Education, Columbia Bible College.

Ben Lippen has one of the most beautiful locations in North Carolina. High up in the Blue Ridge mountains, it is very near to Smoky Mountain National Park, and to Mount Mitchell, highest peak east of the Rockies.

Guests live in the spacious Conference Inn, of which a picture is shown above. Meetings are held in Huston Hall, an auditorium seating twelve hundred people.

Lippen Lodge is for college men who do their own cooking. Room and board for four weeks costs only $16.50.

Ben Lippen is located only five miles from Asheville, the nearest railroad station. A bus line comes from the city to the conference grounds.

"Treaty of Lancaster"

In 1762 the Governor of Pennsylvania arranged a treaty with the Indians at Lancaster to effect the release of missionaries held prisoners. The Fund sent representatives "with an order for five hundred pounds" to be paid the Indians upon return of the prisoners. The Treaty of Lancaster is symbolic of the services rendered clergymen for more than two centuries by the Presbyterian Ministers' Fund.

AT THE Treaty of Lancaster the Fund undoubtedly supplied goods to barter for the lives of the captives.

Today, the Fund will supply protection in cash funds. Rising prices require more cash funds to protect a Standard of Living. The flexible policy to provide these cash funds is the Double Protection Endowment at Age 65.

The All-Round Every Week CHRISTIAN JOURNAL

The busy Sunday school teacher who uses The Sunday School Times knows that every week new lesson study material will be delivered right to his home. And that there are ten departments from which to choose in each issue, with the leading lesson exposition by H. A. Ironside. More than enough material to give plenty of reserve power in teaching the class.

Every earnest Christian worker who reads the Times knows that in it he will find the answer to many a puzzling problem in its "Notes on Open Letters" and its special articles dealing with interesting phases of Bible study and truth.

The alert Christian men and women who read the Times know that this is an easy way to keep up with religious news of the world. About once a month Ernest Gordon unearths unusual bits of news in his World Survey of Religious Life and Thought. To do this, Mr. Gordon reads some hundreds of books and periodicals in a year, in several different languages.

Christian people everywhere, in all walks of life, who read the Times know that in addition to these many regular features there are special series of articles throwing light on Bible prophecy, doctrine, great Christian conflicts, and other subjects vital to Christian thinking today.

Why don't you give this eighty-three-year-old Christian journal a good six months' trial—starting right now? You may have a 24-weeks subscription for only $1.00.
